

Volvo D9 500

This information is based on actual sea-trials of production boats. These boats may or may not have certain optional equipment installed which may cause the boat to weigh more or less. The sea conditions at the time of sea-trial may be different from boat to boat. The boats chosen for these fuel curves were fully loaded with water and fuel to simulate an average loaded condition. Actual results will vary. Sea-trial data may not show full RPM range of that particular engine.
